JD Application

Fall and spring admission to The John Marshall Law School is available as a full-time day, part-time day, or part-time evening student. There is no fee to apply.

Fall Application Period: August 15–March 1

Spring Application Period: September 2–November 15

Admission Eligibility

All candidates applying to The John Marshall Law School must have a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university prior to enrollment. When reviewing applications, The John Marshall Law School admission committee considers all aspects of an applicant’s qualifications, and takes the following criteria into consideration:

- Law School Admission Test (LSAT) Scores*
- Official Undergraduate Transcripts
- Personal Statement
- Résumé
- Letters of Recommendation (Optional)

*If you have more than one LSAT score, we consider the highest.

LSAT

Fall applicants must take the LSAT no later than February and submit an electronic application no later than April 1, to be given full consideration.

Spring applicants must take the LSAT no later than October and submit an electronic application no later than November 15.

To apply, use the LSAC e-application at www.lsac.org or go to www.jmls.edu/admission.

Personal Statement

A personal statement of approximately 2–4 pages, typed and double-spaced, must accompany each application. Applicants are free to write on a topic of their choice, but are encouraged to discuss topics such as life experiences, interests, talents, or leadership qualities pertinent to their candidacy. The personal statement can be uploaded to the electronic application.

Letters of Recommendation

Letters of recommendation are not required, but are viewed favorably by the admission committee. John Marshall recommends that applicants submit their letters of recommendation through the LSAC Credential Assembly Service, so that letters are included with completed application materials.

Tuition

- $1,495 per credit hour
- $44,850 for the 2014–2015 full-time day program (based on average full-time course load)
- $32,890 for the 2014–2015 part-time evening program (based on average part-time evening course load)

Scholarships

Scholarships and grants are awarded based on merit to entering students who have demonstrated collegiate academic excellence in combination with a competitive LSAT score. Entering scholarships range from $6,000 to full tuition plus a stipend. All applicants are automatically reviewed for scholarship opportunities at the time of admission to John Marshall.
