

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The John Marshall Law School Fair Housing Legal Support Center would like to thank the Retirement Research Foundation for funding this project. The research could not have been done without their help and the able assistance provided by Dr. Julie Kaufman, Senior Program Officer for the Foundation. Frank Young and Joseph Frankus, two recent graduates of The John Marshall Law School, conducted the surveys and the testing and wrote the report. We are very proud of the excellent work that they performed. They were the heart and soul of the project and the project could not have been completed without their concerted efforts. We would also like to thank Lillian Seymore, the Testing Coordinator for The John Marshall Law School Fair Housing Legal Clinic, who coordinated the testing and assembled a first-class team of testers to work on this project. Thanks goes to RoseMarie Knight and Elaine Morey for their administrative and organizational expertise in seeking the grant and doing the necessary accounting and reporting to keep us going. Gayle Nelson-Bloomquist similarly provided us with useful critiques and suggestions.
